A GIFT FROM THE STARS.
By ERROLD DRAKE.

A LONG time ago, when the stars ruled on high,
A great many wonders were seen in the sky.
There were tables of blue, there were couches of gold,
And shelves of deep crimson, and colours untold;
There were floors black and shining, and walls white as snow,
And many more things that I really don't know.
Now said Venus to Saturn, said Saturn to Mars,
"I really do think we are greedy old stars;
For we have a secret that no one does know:
Let us share with the mortals who live down below!"
So they took the great secret, tacked it on to a spear,
Tied up in a thing that we call an "idea;"
Then dropped it right down on the top of a man,
Who, despairing, was painting a hot-water can.
The spear it struck home, the idea was unfurled,
And now the great wonder is known to the world:
Is carried by train, is carried by boat;
Is known to all people, on land or afloat;
Is carried by horse, is carried by camel;
And this is its name—"ASPINALL'S ENAMEL!"

BRITISH HOSPITAL REPORT.

The report of this valued and well-managed institution for 1891 is before us, and shows a satisfactory balance on the right side of the book. The accounts may be summed up thus—

	$ gold
Income.....	27,924
Expenditure	25,488
Surplus	2,436

For greater clearness we have reduced currency to gold at 350 for 100. It appears that the total expenditure was about £5,100 sterling, and the number of patients treated 662. This shews an average outlay of 38$ gold or less than £8 per head, which is a fraction over 5 shillings a day for each patient. When it is borne in mind that hospitals by their very nature are the most costly of all charitable institutions it cannot be said that the above expenditure is high.

In 1888 (the latest year of which we have a complete record before us) the hospitals of the U. Kingdom relieved 145,000 sick persons at a cost of £1,200,000, or £8 per head, the daily expenditure having been 5 shillings per patient.

It is a coincidence that the Report before us shews exactly the same ratio of outlay. And now as regards the medical working, we find as follows:—

Cured.....	449
Died.....	57
Relieved.....	97
Uncured	12
Under treatment.....	47
Total.....	662

The mortality was under 9 %, which is higher than in some previous years. This is however explained by the epidemic of typhoid fever, which has for some months taxed the capacity of the wards and thrown a heavy amount of extra work on the staff. It is precisely to meet this strain on the hospital that the coming Bazaar will be held, to supply funds for two new wards.

The nationality and religion of the patients admitted in 1891 are set forth thus:—

British	495	Ch. of England	271
American	23	R Catholic.....	209
Italians.....	19	Presbyterian ..	62
Various.....	87	Various	82
	624		624

The classification of patients was—

Seamen.....	153
Paying.....	162
Free	309
	624

Among those who died we observe 4 were admitted in a moribund condition, dying a couple of hours after; there were 13 deaths from phthisis or consumption, and 12 from typhoid fever.

We gladly echo the enlogium passed by the Committee on Dr. O'Conor and the matron, Miss Eames, because we have had frequent occasion during the past year to hear from out-going patients, that for efficiency, kindness and unremitting attention no hospital in the world could surpass the institution in question. We are forced to hold over the report till our next, and beg to remind our readers that the meeting will take place on the 28th inst. at the British Consulate.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

POLITICAL.

(From our own Correspondent.)

March, 28th.

The exceedingly bellicose attitude of President Harrison, as Reuter first reported it, in reference to the Behring sea dispute created a little stir if not scare. The stock exchanges, however, both in New York and in London stood firm. War between the United States and Great Britain is not believed in. We have since received the text of the President's letter and of the correspondence between the two Governments which modify the first alarming impression although they leave a still serious state of affairs, mainly caused by the lumpitiousness of the American Government, irritated perhaps by the insolent politeness, pottering, pertinacity and what the President is pleased to call the 'unbusinesslike' higgling of our great Minister, Lord Salisbury, whose wisdom in the guidance of the foreign policy of Britain is thought by even some Liberals to outweigh all the supposed disadvantages of Mr. Gladstone's absence from Downing Street.

Fishery questions are always slippery things to deal with, as they rest on a protective principle and on treaties generally antiquated. But in the present case the probability is Lord Salisbury is on the main question right and President Harrison is in the teeth of international law as usually laid down and even by the Supreme Court itself of the United States, urging fancy claims to the dominion of the open seas supposed to have been possessed by Russia; a dominion dating from a period when there was no steam communication and the Behring sea was practically inaccessible to other nations. At present the seal fisheries are an important trade. The Newfoundland fleet has just returned with 200,000 seals; and in Canada a million of money is invested in the fishery. The point in dispute at this moment is not one of international law. That question, it is agreed between the two nations by a treaty signed at Westminster on the 29th of February last, was to be left to arbitration; although we are still in doubt whether the U. S. Senate, said to be angry at Lord Salisbury's reply, has or has not ratified that treaty. The newspapers say it has been ratified. Mr. Lowther in the House of Commons this afternoon stated that he had heard nothing about it. The point to be settled now is, whether until the arbitration is settled, the U. States are to police the Behring sea against "poachers," or whether, as Lord Salisbury "thinks,"—he is very polite—the Canadians should continue their trade and that there should be no renewal of the "modus vivendi" agreed upon between Britain and the United States in reference to last season's fishing. President Harrison thinks not; and that the "modus vivendi" should be continued, and he threatens to send ships of war to the Alaska coast to warn off the Canadian sealing fleet which is all equipped and ready to sail on May 1st when seal fishing opens. Meanwhile part of the British Pacific squadron is ordered into the same waters; and whatever we may think of fratricidal war, knowing human nature in general and colonial nature and seal fishermen's nature in particular, disagreeable collisions might occur. Lord Salisbury may appear rational enough in 'thinking' as he does that until 1893, when the arbitators may make their award, "our fellows" should go on with their fishing. But it must not be forgotten that the "modus vivendi" was his own proposal, and he made it terminable as agreed in this year, thinking that by that time the award would be made. He was mistaken and committed the unpardonable fault of making no provision for possible mistake. Moreover, the demand of the United States is ostensibly only for a close time for seals, which Lord Salisbury once proposed himself and for a longer time—from April to October—and over larger area—down to the 47th degree of latitude. This proposal he withdrew because the Canadian Government objected! The Canadian object to the "modus vivendi" because they say the Americans under pretence of a "close time" will kill on land—on the islands more seals than the Canadians would kill in the open sea. But under the diplomatic circumstances ruling these trading pleas are not valid. Lord Salisbury proposes that if the arbitration goes against this country, the Canadian boats shall pay for any damage done to U. States interests. But this is just what President Harrison thinks an "unbusiness-like" proposal, for he says with great justice, it would be difficult if not impossible to collect damages from individual sealcatchers.

The proposal should have been at least to guarantee the payment by the British Government. Lord Salisbury has vacillated and yielded first to one and then to the other. His apathy and his indifference to ordinary sublunary affairs has prevented him from foreseeing that besides the grander question of international law at issue, and over and above the cleverness and literary smartness of his despatches, some common little difficulty like the continuance of the 'modus vivendi' was sure to arise, and ought to have been provided for long since, and before the Canadians had prepared their fleet for the coming season.

You will know that the German Ministerial crisis has been temporarily arranged by General Caprivi resigning only his office as President-Minister of Prussia, retaining the Chancellorship of the Empire and also the Prussian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Count Eulenberg succeeds him as President, and Count Zedlitz retires; the end of it being that the Emperor has had to give in to the Liberals on the educational question, and the united Clericals, Catholic and Protestant, are thoroughly defeated.

Prince Bismarck, it is understood, had a more serious attack of illness—a mild stroke of apoplexy—than is generally reported. He is now out driving again, but it is doubtful if he ever returns to office, even if wanted.

The Emperor's illness is, of course, a mystery. He has been rusticating in complete retirement. Officially, it is stated that he suffered from cold and hoarseness. We are glad that it is no worse, and that he has sent to Berlin for his guns, and that he can amuse himself with a little shooting.

The Echo says, Cardinal Ledochowski of Ledochow, a Pole of the Poles, has recently been advanced by Leo XIII to the high post of Prefect of the Congregation "de propaganda fide." This is the most weighty and influential of all the offices in the Vatican. Hence it is; that the occupant is popularly known in Rome as the "Red Pope," the General of the Jesuits being the "Black Pope" and the Bishop of Rome himself the "White Pope." It was not anticipated that the defiant Cardinal, a friend of the late Pius IX, would have been selected for what may be called the Vice Popedom by Leo XIII. He was singled out by Prince Bismarck to carry out his scheme of Prussianism in Poland three or four years before ihe Franco-German war. It was the Polish prelate, not the Prussian statesman who reaped all the fruits of the bargain. After the war he opposed the May laws and the educational legislation of the German Empire. In 1874 he was arrested, deposed from his Archbishopric and confined for two years in the fortress of Ostrowes. He returned to Rome in 1876. Why has the Pope exalted Cardinal Ledochowski, the mortal foe of the German Empire, to the highest dignity in his gift. Everyone expected that Cardinal Ruggero would be the successor of Cardinal Simeoni. We think there can be little doubt that it is the Pope's angry and vexed reply to the speech of the German Emperor after receiving the oath of allegiance from the present Archbishop of Guesen and Posen, Dr. Stablewski. The Kaiser then asserted that the King of Prussia is in fact, as he is in title, the "summus episcopus" of Prussia and all her dominion, and that the Catholic clergy, like his evangelical clergy, are expected to acknowledge with the Apostle, the "king as supreme." The new "Red Pope," though he is popular with the courtly dames of French royalism, is much disliked by the Republicans, for they cannot forget that he journeyed from Poland to Versailles and knelt at the feet of the Prussian Conqueror.

Miss Daisy Hopkins, of sweet seventeen, it will be remembered, was arrested in Cambridge for addressing an undergraduate in the street, and conveyed by the proctor's orders to the Spinning-house. On the way she complained to some young ladies of doubtful antecedents that "they had rounded her." Subsequently she brought an action for damages for slander against Mr. Wallis, the deputy-proctor. The action was tried at Ipswich. The judge—Matthews—said he had nothing to do with the goodness or badness of the law, and left it to the jury to decide upon the evidence as to Miss Hopkins's antecedents and how far the defendant acted in good faith. The jury gave their verdict to-day—it was for the proctor.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 15th.

Good Friday. State of Siege. Decline in price of cereals. Foxy aspect of Presidential question. Dr. Saenz Peña sitting on a barrel of gunpowder, no, of dynamite. The adherents of that pattern of Argentine statesmen, Juarez Celmen, calmly jubilant; they are confident that the motto "Honesty is the best policy" has not taken profound root, and there is still balm in Gilead for them. Well, as you have prohibited me from touching on politics, except to pitch indiscriminately into President, Congress, provincial governors and affairs generally, I have to fall back on uninteresting subjects. This is Good Friday. What do you say, my dear readers of the STANDARD, particularly my lady readers, to a small reminiscence of the writer of an incident that happened away back in the dark ages of the world.

It was on the eve of a Good Friday, in the year, I really forget, that the gentleman, known, and I hope favorably known in Argentina as "W.P.," commanded a well armed party of treasure seekers that landed at point Isabel, in Mexico, with the intention of crossing the continent, in the northern part of Mexico, and debouching at Matzalan, at the foot of the Gulf of California. We were a party of twenty five, with three waggons for conveying the luggage and the provisions, for we camped out every night. After leaving the Rio Grande, we traversed the same route as that of General Taylor, in the great war between the United States and Mexico, crossed over the battle fields of Resaca de las Palmas and Buena Vista; at the latter place Santana, with an army of 20 thousand Mexicans made his last stand against General Taylor, who had only 7000. The Mexicans were defeated, and their general, leaving Taylor victor in northern Mexico, withdrew his army to the south to resist General Scott, who was marching on the Capital.

Our march was rather a risky one. Besides the ghosts of the poor fellows slaughtered on the battle fields, we had to content against the cholera that was ravaging the country, and the Comancho Indians, who were on a raid, striking terror into the hearts of the poor 'campesines', killing the men and carrying off the womne and children. However, they respected our little party, with its formidable array of American rifles; and as we had no object in attacking them, there was a kind of armed neutrality between us; but we were often surrounded by the naked savages on their fiery little mustangs.

Shortly after passing over the bloody battle field of Buena Vista, we arrived at the town of Saltillo, a place of some 12 or 15 thousand inhabitants, on the eve of Good Friday. Saltillo is built in a narrow valley between two ranges of mountains, and has only one main road, passing through the plaza and front of the great cathedral. There are narrow lateral streets running up the sides of the mountains. At the time I am speaking of superstition and fanaticism were very rife in Mexico, and the clergy had unlimited power During Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of Holy Week, no work of any kind was done; no four-footed creature was allowed in the streets, and all traffic was suspended. Our party found itself in a fix. To run the risk of forcing as it were our passage through the long street appeared to be hazarding a conflict with the fanatical mob. I walked into town and called on two or three American gentlemen, merchants in the place. They were emphatic in their declaration that it would be the height of temerity to attempt to enter the town on the morrow. I visited the Alcalde, a kind of Intendente and Jefe de Policia rolled into one. He was polite enough, but could give me no assistance, and advised me to see the Bishop; but that venerable gentleman was not to be seen. By this time there was a considerable excitement in the town, the news spreading that a party of armed Americans intended to defy the authorities and march through the town, on the sacred Viernes Santo. We were in a quandary. To persist appeared to be dangerous, and to be delayed on our journey three days was preposterous. We held a council of war, and came to a determination to run the risk.

It was about eight o'clock when we were saddled up, and the waggons ready, and each man with his rifle slung over his shoulder. On reaching the broad main street, we found the sidewalks crowded. The men scowled at us, and bestowed on us some of the picturesque curses indigenous to Mexico. Some of the men had stones in their hands, and, strange to say, the women were busied in taking these stones from the men and carrying them away. We were not molested, but, as we marched on the crowd closed up behind us, and followed us, as much as to say:—"Just wait until we get you in the plaza, my fine fellows." On arriving at the plaza, the scene was very pretty, but rather ominous. The square was crowded with women in their black "rebosas" and the men in their variegated and showy "mantas" and "zarapes." The street was full, and it was manifest to us that the intention was to bar our passage. To force our way would have been dangerous had it been possible. At this supreme moment we executed the manœuvre agreed on. I called a halt; every man dismounted and took off his hat; the order to march was given and we slowly moved on. To my amazement, this simple act of courtesy and deference to their religion caused an instantaneous reaction. The crowd opened to give us passage and cheered us lustily. Little girls and even women pressed on us, presenting us with flowers; in fact, our march through the long street was a regular ovation. I almost expected to see the Bishop sally out of the cathedral to bless us. It was thus we got out of what appeared to be a serious dilemma. On every recurrence of a Good Friday, my adventure at Saltillo is brought to my memory.

W. P.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

A "Subscriber" who is at present visiting the "doctoral" city of Cordoba, send us the following:—

"This city is a magnificent one. It is not, of course, so large as B. Ayres, but in my opinion it is very much better arranged and prettier. You can see at once that a lot of money has been squandered on it. Just imagine gilt posts in the Plaza. That gilt cost a lot of paper-money. There is a magnificent equestrian statue of General Paz in the Plaza. It is a beautiful work of art. The theatre occupies an entire block. The seats in the pit are covered with velvet cushions. There are special rooms for the Governor, the ministers, toilet rooms for the ladies, etc., etc. I never saw anything so costly. The receipts of this theatre are nil, as there is no company, but tourists pay a dollar or so to the porter, who shews them all this useless magnificence, which recalls the balcyon days of boom. There are any number of beautiful houses all empty and to let to the first comer. The principal occupation of the people here is politics. There is a big "confiteria" in the Plaza, opposite the Government House, and politicians divide their time between the two buildings. People live on politics. Politics is everything. A Cordobese is nothing if not a politician. Cordoba is as ready as ever to supply presidents and ministers and occupants for all the state posts in the country. These Cordobese would govern the world if they could—on Cordobese principles."

According to our Mendoza exchanges, the Government there is going to organize two battalions of volunteers "instar" Buenos Ayres. It is to be hoped that the Government will desist from this project. There is altogether too much bellicose enthusiasm. The arts of peace are what we need to pull us through the crisis.

Major O'Donnell, who is at present in Mendoza recruiting, has got a rap over the knuckles from Judge Castillo, for accepting a young enthusiast under age who ran away from his parents to enlist. The enthusiasts often rise to the highest rank, but, as Bossuet said to Louis XIV on a memorable occasion, "There are great examples for, but there are very sound reasons against it."

The Santa Fé school-teachers are clubbing together with a view of instituting judicial proceedings to recover their unpaid salaries from Government. These unfortunate school-teachers have not been paid for an alarming length of time, and the result is they are on the verge of starvation. The National Government should look into this.

There is a storm brewing in Santa Fé about the question of the murder of a German sailor, particulars of which we published some time ago. The sailor was killed by a commissary, who was released on paying an indemnity! It appears that Minister Zeballos has sent a stiff note to the Governor, who refuses to allow it to be published.

DISCOVERY OF A MURDER.

A few days ago, as some workmen were placing water-pipes in a house near the Plaza Retiro, one of the number dug up the corpse of a woman. The police were immediately called in, and Commissary Levalle instituted an inquiry which proved beyond doubt that the body belonged to a woman who was murdered The corpse was discovered under the flooring. It was imbedded in lime, which accounts for its remarkable preservation. The body was clothed in under garments of very fine linen marked B. C. The doctors called in to examine the corpse stated that the woman must have been murdered four months ago. The Commissary, with these details as a basis, called on the owner and was informed by him that about four months ago the house was let to a young man named Heroux, who was lame. The owner had refused to give up the house to the tenant without references, whereupon Heroux referred him to a lady living in Calle Esmeralda, 700 and odd. The houseowner furthermore stated that shortly afterwards he remarked that the house was empty, and finally that he had the house opened, and discovered nothing but some lime in one of the back-rooms. It appeared that the tenant had flown having sold his furniture. The Commissary then proceeded to the house in Calle Esmeralda and was informed that a woman named Blanche de Coudillac had lived there about four months ago but left to live with a man named Heroux. It was quite evident that this was the murdered woman. He was furthermore informed that this Heroux had been living with a woman named Adela Bellou. Adela, Blanche and Heroux went to live together in the house near the Retiro, and it was shewn that five days after the occupation of the house Adela and Heroux disappeared.

The task before the Commissary now was to discover the whereabouts of this couple. After a thousand inquiries he found that Heroux came to this country with a woman named Pauline Dubois in 1890. This woman is at present in prison owing to a robbery committed most probably at the instigation of Heroux. The Commissary went to the prison and questioned Pauline, who informed him that Heroux used to come and visit her now and then in prison, and that on the 23rd November he brought her 200 dollars. His last visit was on the 27th November, when he informed her that he was leaving for Europe. She shewed the Commissary a letter of his dated Barcelona, December 27. The Commissary followed up his inquiries, the results of which shew that Blanche sold her jewellery to Heroux for 800 dollars, and that Heroux sold his furniture for 400 dollars. There can be no doubt that Blanche was murdered by Heroux and Adela, who are both in Europe, and that robbery was the motive of the crime.

The police have displayed great activity in this affair, and the rapidity with which the crime has been traced out reflects credit on Commissary Levalle. The criminals now remain to be caught.

SR. GALVANI'S ORCHESTRAL CONCERTS

Number two of the above took place on Friday last. Particularly proud should the conductor of these concerts be, and particularly pleased must be "El mundo del Arte" under whose patronage these performances are being given, for they may be well assured that they have got hold of a good thing.

The programme was hardly as attractive as that given at the first performance, but that magnificent machine, the full orchestra was in splendid gear, and the lightness and piquancy with which they played, Schubert's "Moment Musicale," a perfect and attractive movement for strings only, fully earned for them the encore which the audience enthusiastically demanded.

Sra. C. de Franc was the vocalist and gave a pleasant and artistic rendering of "Le Lac," by Niedermeyer.

The Scherzo from Mendelsohn's "Midsummer night's Dream" did not receive the appiause which the work and its performance deserved; possibly had the overture, which is certainly more attractive, been given, as I trust it will be before the concerts are finished, the audience would have been better pleased.

Mozart's overture to "The Magic Flute" opened the 2nd part: this, which is one of his most popular overtures, being performed at Sr. James's Hall, the Crystal Palace, and the Albert Hall simultaneously, on the occasion of the centenary of his death, which took place, 5th December 1791, was a truly grand performance.

What is there to be said about "Minuetto" Boccherini, "Danze Slave" Vorak; this was stated on the programme to be new, but this was performed at the first of these concerts, and "Maestri Cantori di Norimberaga" Preludio, Wagner? Nothing, except to record that the whole of these items were magnificently readered, save the last, the slips in this being apparently due to misunderstanding of tempo.

* * * *

The powers that be have not favoured me with a ticket for the Ismael matinée, still I bear no malice, and will give them a free advertisement. The programme includes some good instrumental music, amongst which figures Mendelhson's overture "Fingal Cave" and last though not least, the names of Mdme. Dunant and Miss Lumb, which should be a guarantee of a good performance.

THE ROMAY IRON MINES.

I started in company with Mr. Maurice Schwartz and other friends for the mines in the mountains of Catamarca. Twenty three hours took us to Cordoba where the narrow gauge train for Frias was waiting for us. Ten hours more took us to our destination. A few years ago it would have taken months to accomplish the trip. I cannot omit to mention the very able management of the Tucuman line; the whole track has been relaid with steel rails, and the self-consuming smoke-stacks prevent all danger of setting fire to the adjacent woods. The rapid growth of trees is worthy of notice; all the openings made by Mr. Klappenback's steam sawmill, some fifteen years ago, when cutting sleepers for Telfener, are now overgrown, as though the hand of man had never been raised there to fell a single tree; the quebracho colorado takes ten years to mature, whilst the algarroba, lapacha, and mistol shoot up in about half that time; of these the best charcoal is made, and experts assure me it burns as 40 to 90 against the far famed Newcastle staple.

From Frias to the Romay mines is about 15 kilometres as the crow flies, but the several turns in the road render it close on twenty, whilst the dense forest of prickly plants renders locomotion even on horseback by no means easy or agreeable. The scenery was beautiful throughout, whilst on reaching Romay the sight was soul-stirring. There at our feet lay untold wealth, requiring only a little capital and labour to bring it under the notice of the industrial world. Indeed it is impossible to overestimate the extent and importance of this discovery.

We are now 1260 feet above sea level; fifteen leagues to the West stands the city of Catamarca at an altitude of 1680 feet, whilst the river Albigasta flows so close to the base of the mountain that one might almost throw a stone into its rapid current. So much for the general configuration of the estate, which covers two and a half square leagues, all of the same rocky and wooded nature, whilst the water is in parts so ferruginous as to partake more of the medicinal.

The great business here is goat-farming, the profits of which are treble those of sheep or cattle herding, by reason of the enormous increase in the flocks, 80 to 90 per cent, and the cheapness of the rents, most of the landlords being only too glad to have their runs refined and settled on free of all charge. Timber cutting too is highly productive. Rain is scarce, but a heavy dew falls nightly; alfalfa gives 8 to 9 cuttings annually, and wheat is said to yield even in a bad year one hundred fold. There is a town of 4000 souls. Señor Sotomayor's colony at Albigasta number 200. This enterprising gentleman has a railway 10 kilometres in length to connect the two points, also a canal 800 metres long, and last not least a telephone! All three run half way to the mine and might be easily finished at but a slight cost. According to the Custom-house returns the daily consumption of iron is, say 70 tons or about 2,000 per month, not counting iron rails or other fine works, but this figure, as may be expected, must steadily increase, crisis or no crisis.

At the banquet on Saturday it was my honour to propose the prosperity of the Argentine Republic, which, if true to itself, must sooner or later survive all its troubles. (Applause.) Dr. Nicolas Leiva, National Deputy, said that since the independence of his country England had proved her best friend and he hoped that it might ever be so in the interest of both nations; a little good faith and forbearance were all that was necessary to secure the great desideratum. Mr. Arthur Gibson thanked the learned Doctor for the noble sentiments just expressed, which he felt sure were those entertained by the majority of the Argentine people. Dr. Castro is the leading physician, having immediately on receiving his diploma, forsaken the pleasures of city life for one of endless toil in these primative wilds.

It would not be fair to conclude these hurried notes without bearing public testimony to the kindness of Mr. Emilio Hansen, who offered an armed escort to the expedition in case the troubled state of the interior provinces so required it.

A TRIP UP THE URUGUAY.

Hearing of an excursion of the National School of Uruguay, conducted by Dr. Zubiaur and the Rev. Dr. Gibbon Spilsbury, to Concordia, and bearing in mind some pleasant recollections of the Tandil excursion, a friend and myself decided to spend Holy Week with this party. We shipped on board the 'Cosmos', which has a courteous captain and excellent accommodation. We reached Concordia on Good Friday afternoon and were fortunate enough to fall in with the National College party on their return from Federacion. The next day we took a steam launch engaged by the excursionists and were speedily conveyed to the Banda Oriental, in order to visit the 'bodega' and vineyards of Sr. Don Harriague. Who has never visited a distillery should endeavour to visit this gentleman's. Besides being amazed at the size of the place he will be asked to taste an excellent glass of wine of their own vintage. In the afternoon we visited the town of Salto, which is prettily situated on 7 hills. The town itself is clean and remarkable for its stones. Agates are found abundantly and the water stone is to be had there too, so called as it is transparent and contains a little water. These stones are not found in the streets: they cost $3 gold apiece. As on the morrow the whole party was to return to Concepcion del Uruguay, the good Concordia people gave an entertainement at the theatre that evening. First on the programme was the National Hymn, beautifully rendered by a chorus of boys and girls accompanied by a full band. Dr. Zubiaur, the head of the National College, gave a very able address. Then followed some more music and more speeches by scholars of the college, who did credit to their masters. Then followed an interval, after which the Rev. Dr. Gibbon Spilsbury spoke most eloquently on the progress of the country and in particular of Concordia, stating that it was not so very many years ago when the Uruguy was sailed by canoes, only roughly hewn out of trees, and that to day, so important had Concordia grown, large steamers ploughed their way up to this port. The next day found us again on our way back to Buenos Aires, regretting that our time did not allow us to pursue our way higher up the banks of the picturesque Uruguay.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Gold Eagle down and the people's spirits up yesterday. Everybody took a cheerful view of everything, and general good spirits prevailed.

The latest news about Congress is that it cannot meet on the legal date, May 1st, as the Legislatures of Santa Fe, Santiago and Tucuman have each to elect a new member to the National Senate, and until they do, the Upper House will not be in a quoruming condition.

A happy subscriber who has cleared his quinta of ants and 'bichos' of all kinds by means of Thorncliffe's Sheep Fluid, begs us to make the fact known, for the benefit of all who keep quintas, gardens or even a flower-pot. Mr Arthur Gibson, 132 Calle San Martin, is the sole agent for the Fluid.

The Diario says that if it be provoked, it will raise a corner of the political curtain and show what queer things there are behind it.

We are truly glad to report that the venerable Dr. Burmeister is very much better and on the road to recovery.

The names of the gentlemen not responding as subscribers to the Cinderella dances will be replaced unless sent in to the Hon. Secretary by Monday the 25th, at least.

The following are our selections for to-day's races at Belgrano:—

Premio Parana—Jefferson
" Pilcomayo—Ceres
" Uruguay—Nogoyá
" Esperanza—Petite Ecurie
" Amazonas—Tala
" El Plata—Patria.

In reference to the question put to us the other day as to whether England has annexed or purchased 30,000 square miles of Venezuelan territory, we beg to say that she was forced to adopt the former simple process, as successive Venezuelan Governments since 1814 have obstinately refused to settle the question on any terms. Our informant is a gentleman who knows the whole case, and will be happy to afford any further information.

There was a large and distinguished attendance yesterday at the interment of the remains of Senora de Varela, showing eloquently the esteem in which she was so deservedly held.

We have to thank the Belgian Choral Union for tickets for their grand concert to-day, the attractions of which we have already referred to.

There will be a pole match this afternoon on the ground of the Belgrano Polo Club between the following teams: England: J. Ravenscroft; C. Day; K. Cassels; F. Balfour. The World; E. Robson; H. Stafford; J. Hunter; H. Robson. Players are requested to be on the ground as soon after 1 o'clock as possible in order to give time for a members game afterwards.

We cordially join the Rev. Father Edmund's legion of friends in endorsing the following paragraph from the last issue of our esteemed contemporary the Southern Cross:—"Rev. Father Edmund, Passionist, is about to leave this country in a few days. He goes to England and thence to a house of his order in North America, and he expects to take shipping by one of the boats of he Highland Scot Company. We need not say that Father Edmund's departure will be deeply regretted by our Catholic congregations in town and camp to whom he is known and by whom he will always be remembered as a genial companion in ordinary association, a scholar of great learning, a distinguished pulpit orator and a true priest. Few ever came in contact with Father Edmund over whom he did not exercise a secret influence for good, and personally we are grieved at his leaving us, for we esteemed him not only as a priest but as a friend. May his days be long and his life always happy."

Our esteemed colleague the Montevideo Times has pounced on the philanthropist in England who is trying to induce young Englishmen with small capital to go to Uruguay and make their fortune. This worthy emulator of Henley of old signs himself "Frank Kineton," and says, at the foot of a lot of optimist figures:—"Profit $845 yearly. This is more or less what I make, but then I have had over fifteen years' experience in the business; but any duffer can make £500 and lead an active, healthy life. This is a good time to begin, as everything is very low in price, land and stock.

Yours truly,
Frank Kineton."

In its turn the M. V. T. says of Frank: "Kineton," if our memory serves us aright, was a "nom-de-plume" assumed by a frequent correspondent of a weekly journal published here some four years ago, and it was generally believed that the letters, much in the same style as that quoted, emanated from a member of the staff who had rarely been outside Montevideo for 24 hours at a time in all his life. But the letters were consistent with the object of the journal which was to attract capital, but not to tell the truth."

Mr. Thomas Wood, our esteemed opposite neighbour, had a visit from burglars on Friday evening between 8 and 10 p.m. The porter went to dinner at 6 o'clock, and when he returned at 9.45 he found all the desks and trunks broken open, and over $300 in cash gone. The thieves tried to open the safe but failed. They entered by the street door, for which they must have had a key, and they must be well acquainted with the premises.

The Montevidean papers publish the vigorous protest of the Argentine political exiles there. Of course, nothing can be published about it here until the state of siege comes to an end.

A recent exchange from New York says: "The Treasury has lost $10,000,000 in gold since Jan. 1st, a deficiency is in sight and the currency is being inflated at the rate of $50,000,000 a year with paper notes redemable in 70-cent silver dollars. And yet the organs assert with apparent soberness that the Republican party must be kept in power in the interest of sound financiering and honest money!"

The weather in England is in a queer mood. On Thursday it was snowing in a way that venerable humbug the oldest inhabitant could not remember to have seen before. On Friday it was fine. In our youth English weather was eminently steady, respectable and good: now there is as much "fin de siecle" looseness about it as there is in the financial and business methods of the period.

The Chicago Exhibition Committee are now "en evidence" at their offices 260 Calle Perú, so those who intend to cut a dash, splash or mash at "the biggest Show since the Flood" should lose no time in interviewing them.

Some of the Chinese believe when they see an eclipse that huge monsters are trying to devour the sun and the moon, and that nothing will save us all but to go into the streets beating loud drums and brass kettles, so as to frighten

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to its EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Monday, April 25th.

The gold market opened weak, and fell sharply. Twenty thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $54.70, fell to 54.30, and closed firm at 54.50, say 234 % premium. Two thousand sovereigns were sold at $17 to 16.94, say 236 % premium. The speculation ruled very weak all morning, but there was a slight bullish rally at the end of the ring, closing prices remaining firm.

Patriotic Bonds opened firm, but closed weak at 59.30. Shares of the Bolsa Building Co. were sold at 25 % premium. Edificadora shares changed hands at 80. Catalinas shares fell to 6.90. La Plata Cedulas were very dull, but firm.

Exchange was very quiet to-day, little or nothing doing at nominal rates. Discounts continue difficult.

We take the following from our London exchanges under date 5th inst.—

"The Lord Chancellor yesterday delivered the judgment of the House of Lords in the appeal of the London Joint Stock Bank against a decision of the Lords Justices, holding the bank liable to refund to Mr. C. J. Simmons the value of some Cedula Bonds belonging to him which had been deposited by a broker named Delmar as security for advances. When the firm of Herepath, Delmar and Co. failed, the bank sold the Bonds, which were negotiable instruments, not knowing that they were the property of Simmons, and both Mr. Justice Kekewich and the Court of Appeal held that the bank was liable to restore the Bonds to their original owner. That judgment was now reversed by their Lordships, who ordered Mr. Simmons to pay all the costs.

"There is a good deal of discontent among the shareholders of the Imperial and Foreign Investment and Agency Corporation that no action has been taken against the old Board, which entered into the disastrous 'swoop' with the Murrietas, when the Company was new. Holders of £40,000 stock have joined in drawing up a requisition to the present Board, calling upon it to summon an extraordinary meeting for the purpose of taking steps in the matter. Copies of this requisition lie for signature at the offices of Messrs. Nunn and Popham, 140 Leadenhall-street, and Messrs. Frere Foster and Co., 28 Lincoln's-inn-fields.

"There were considerable inquiries for money this morning to repay loans due at the Bank, and as much as 2½ per cent was paid for accommodation. But the rate fell afterwards to 1½ and 2 per cent. To-morrow the dividends will be set free and lead to a abundance of means. By the end of this week the whole of the advances made by the Bank will have been paid, and the short bills will have run off. This day week, therefore, the Spring rates for money may be more settled and defined than they have been lately. In the meantime, the discount rate has shrunk to 1½ per cent for three months' Bank bills, and is not very firm there. A little further reduction, and gold will be taken for the Continent. The Paris rate of exchange is not far from the bullion point against us now.

"Prices were good on the Stock Exchange, and left off better in the great majority of cases. Consols were ¼ up for money, at 96¼-⅜, and 3-16 up for the May account, at 96 5-16 7-16. The National Debt Commissioners had their usual terminable annuity purchases to make, and there is the surplus revenue for the past year to apply to the reduction of the debt. Therefore the Consol Market is getting ready.

"Buenos Ayres Great Southern and Buenos Ayres and Rosario Stocks fell 1 each, to 122½ and 69.

"Foreign Government Bonds were steady, all except Italian and Spanish. Argentine Funding Bonds-rose ¼, to 55, and the other issues were steady, nobody heeding the telegrams about the so-called 'Radicals.' The 'state of siege,' and so on, in Buenos Ayres, is taken to imply that the Roca Party means to stand no nonsense at the coming Presidential Election. Brazilian Four-per-Cents were ¼ up, at 57¼; French Four-and-

Mr. Brunkhoorst, who has just returned from the camp, was welcomed on 'Change and congratulated on his new estancia purchase; his fine barraca at the Once he has relet on lease at favorable terms.

English Bank cheques were done today at 15 dollars and are in demand at this rate. The news of the reconstruction of the Bank is so favorable that the purchase of these cheques at this discount appears to be about the best business going, as the money to pay off all debts in this market must be forthcoming from London, in order to secure to the new company the valuable assets in this country.

At the Nat. Land office in Calle Piedad we notice a very large business going on and the place as crowded as the Custom House, a rather good sign. Last year this land office was deserted; to-day it is thronged with people from the camp renting outside lands from the Government, which shows that the country still moves.

With deep regret we announce the suicide of Mr. F. Lix-Klett, whose brother is so well and favorably known in the market. Deceased many years ago had a 'barraca' in the Once, and owing to the crisis was most unfortunate in business, which caused his melancholy demise.

Strange news from La Plata about the Mortgage Bank. It seems that the Cedula syndicate in Europe has sent an agent out to offer the Government most favorable terms for taking over the whole concern, bank 'bonos,' Cedulas, mortgages, etc.; but, notwithstanding the formality of the offer and its bright terms, there is no great willingness in La Plata to accept any such offer, and it is probable nothing will come of the business.

The sale of 5,000 fine mestiza Rambouillet sheep on the Colorado is reported at 2$%/al corte,' which for good sheep is considered cheap. The sheep are bought for the Tres Bonetes estancia.

Wool advices from Europe were slightly better to-day, as they announce a firmer market. Some messages state that speculators are working up the price of wool. The news had an immediate effect on the produce plazas this morning; for fine, clean wools from the South firm prices were paid, from $10 to $10.30 per 10 kilos. Middling wools are still a drug in the market and change hands with some difficulty. Arrivals in the Plaza Constitucion and in the Central Market are up to the average.

Telegrams from Havre on the price of maize show a fall of 2 francs per 100 kilos. This fall, enhanced by the decline in the gold premium, must necessarily have a disastrous effect on our local market, and a drop in paper prices is a foregone conclusion. Prices of yellow maize of the new crop were quoted at $4.80 per 100 kilos; this rate cannot now be maintained.

The arrivals of wheat have fallen off and are now much under the average. Good qualities have improved to $10 per 100 kilos, but the fall in gold threatens to put down the price next week to $9.50. Exporters are out of the market for the moment, firstly owing to the bad quality of the wheat in general, and secondly owing to the high level of prices compared with limits from Europe. Furthermore, there is no disposable steam tonnage, and none will be forthcoming for the next fortnight. Those who happened to secure tonnage paid at the rate of 22½ fcs. per 1000 kilos for Antwerp and France.

The Managing Committee of the Argentine Section of the Chicago Exhibition have requested the support of all the provincial Governments and of all the societies and industrial concerns in the country, amongst others of the Camara de Comercio of the Bolsa, Camara Mercantil, Mercado Central de Frutos, La Sociedad Rural, La Sala Comerical del Once Setiembre, Sala Comercio Plaza Constitucion, Sociedad de Molineros, La Union Industrial, etc.; they also request the moral aid of the editors of the foreign and native press, also of the Circulo de Cronistas. The Committee propose to make a preliminary exhibition in this city of all the exhibits that will be sent to Chicago, an excellent idea. It appears that very many members of our industrial community have applied for sites in the Argentine section, and are determined to make a handsome display, in spite of the crucial straits of the present crisis. Mr. Bertolette, of the Exhibition Committee, has presented to the Bolsa a handsome bird's-eye view of the coming exhibition; the members admired the panorama much and agree that it would eclipse their bright recollections of the great Paris fair.

Mr. Catlin, of New York, who has arrived out in the Sirio, was welcomed on 'Change. She made the run out in 18½ days, and landed 1600 tons of cargo in Montevideo, a most unusual affair. Mr. Catlin speaks in the highest terms of the luxury and comfort on board. The Sirio leaves for Europe on 1st May next.

Gold ruled very weak at the second ring: about thirteen thousand ounces were sold for Monday; the price opened at 54.90$, fell to 54.70, and closed weak at 54.80, sellers 2361 ¼ premium. Sovereigns closed at 17$, say 2374 % premium. Stocks and shares were dull and weak.

The National Inspection Board of Railways sent a note to-day to the Chairman of the Board of Public Works, stating that permission can be given to the Ferro-Carril Gran Sud Americano Company to open to traffic, for the conveyance of local produce, the section of railroad running from the rising town of Reconquista to its new port on the river bank. We may add that this permission is extended to what may be termed merely a provisional line of railroad. This provisional line was laid along the main road between the two places after an understanding with the Government and the Comision de Fomento of the town of Reconquista. No National guarantee is extended to the working of the temporary line, which is considered quite outside the concession granted with guarantee for the construction of the trunk line. The Board of Inspection, however, view in a different light the five kilometres of line running from Reconquista to Avellaneda: This section is part of the trunk line, guaranteed by law of the nation, and it cannot be opened to public traffic unless the Company previously apply to Government for a thoroughly technical overhauling of its construction and rolling stock, as is the custom with regard to all guaranteed lines. So far as payment of guarantee is concerned, the five kilometres of line to Avellaneda cannot be opened to the public, as the respective law of concession specially provides that only sections of 50 kilometres in length can be handed to traffic: if there be settlements along the railroad, the Government is at liberty to reduce the minimum length for the opening of the respective sections. But the Board of Inspection object:—

1stly—That the definite section of railway between Reconquista and its port has not been built.

2ndly—That at kilometres 29,445 and 53,190 the sites have been fixed for Stations Tropezon and Las Garzas, the latter point being, owing to its kilometric position, the terminus of the first section.

In case the Government should think fit to open to public traffic the five kilometres of line to Avellaneda, the Inspection Board urge that no guarantee be paid on the working of same, as it cannot aspire to the category of a section of the trunk line.

The Board of Public Works have sent a note to the National Government including the plans which the Central Argentine Railway Company have submitted to carry out certain alterations in the old tumble-down Retiro station, a standing disgrace to railway enterprise in this country. It is to be much regretted, however, that the alterations proposed by the Central Argentine Railway Company embrace but slight improvement in the platforms. The Department have reported favorably on the application of the Company and, after consulting the General Board of Railway Inspection, have somewhat improved on the original intentions of the company; this improvement is an expansion of 33 metres in the roofing over the platforms. It is a strange fact that in spite of the proximity of the factory of the Old Gas Company, nothing but oil is used for illuminating purposes in the Retiro station. Some Pampero blow will perform a charitable act to the public by blowing the whole Retiro station into the River Plate.

The Board of Public Works has sent to the National Government the official measurement of the four first sections of the great Transandine Railway, say from the town of Mendoza to Uspallata. According to this measurement the length of the line between the two points is 92.020 kilometres, beginning from Mendoza station at kilometre 0.

The Custom House receipts to-day were above the average. About three hundred thousand dollars were collected for imports and twenty thousand for exports. The receipts of the month up to date amount to $4,545,517, against 4,078,884 for same period last year. The total receipts since the beginning of the year show an excess over same period last year of eleven and a half millions.

The subscription to the first ten million series of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina dragged to-day. The subscription is dwindling daily and will soon be nil. One hundred and two shares only were subscribed to day, viz.—

The National Government approved to-day the plans presented by the Bahia Blanca-North-Western Railway Company and the San Cristobal-Tucuman Railway Company for the construction of culverts and of a syphon at station Fortin Torado. Both constructions are a mere matter of detail.

No doubt owing to the present flush of money in the Treasury and prospects of great excess in the revenue, the National Government, in a fit of generosity, has donated to the Municipality of the city the famous block in Calles Charcas and Paraguay—once intended as the site for a monumental Congress building. Our readers may still remember the proportions of that business during the days of boom, the subsequeent re-sale to the public, collateral lawsuits, etc.; finally, the Government remained with the site, which now goes to the Municipality and will be turned into a public garden or pleasure resort. Not satisfied with this concession, the Lord Mayor has carried on his success and obtained this evening from the generous Executive the 'banda' alongside the Department of Agriculture to starta Botanical Garden. We should have thought that the Municipal Treasury could not afford such a luxury, but times are beginning to boom again in the Plaza Mayo and the Guildhall.

Beautifully printed invitation cards were sent round to-day by Mr. José Pacheco to witness the manœuvres of the Zarate and Maldonado divisions of the army at his splendid estancia El Talar on the banks of the Lujan river. The Talar is one of the baronial estates of this country.

CHARLES OLMI
THE GREAT AUCTION
of the Epoch
The Most
Regal Show on Record
Splendid and most costly furniture.
INIMITABLE!
All attempts at describing it would be pale and vapid compared with the reality. I abandon the task of trying to describe the splendour and downright extravagance displayed in this exceptional set of household belongings, all made in Paris by the old and well-known firm of Krieger, and selected by a connoisseur of note, so that the "Menage" I am going to sell is one of the most remarkable and costly that has ever come to this country; and as such I offer and recommend it, without any hesitation whatever. Each article in this incomparable collection rivals another in solidity, elegance and cost. There is in it what will suit every taste, and I respectfully call on all intelligent people of good taste to inspect this regal display of furniture, which was specially bought for a personage in this republic.
Gorgeous gasaliers of crystal by Osler, and bronzes for all parts of the palatial residence for which they were intended.
These works of art, which were selected in Paris in the establishment of Scarriere Son, and Company cost a fortune.
Magnificent English chimney-piece in carved wood. Splendid smoking room suite of the most luxurious kind.
Superb drawing room suite in Genoa velvet, Louis XVI. style. Solid sideboard Chiffonier. "Jardineras." Gilt-framed mirrors, silk-covered chairs and curtains. Beautiful suite in Smyrna. English (Maple) sofa, arm-chair and four chairs.
Superb polished walnut bedroom suite, Louis XV. style, inlaid with gold, comprising:
1 Regal Washstand,
1 Luxurious Bed,
1 Grand Dressing Table,
1 Night Table,
1 Splendid Wardrobe.
Exquisite Saint Gobain chisseled mirrors of the purest lustre, and select marble articles.
There is another Bedroom suite that defies description.
Two superb German Pianos of great value.
Some English Furniture from Maple's.
A truly exceptional Dining room suite, Henri II. style, chairs with stamped leather seats and backs.
A really superb carved desk Henri Deux style. Large solid book-case of fine oak and walnut, with engraved glass doors. Writing table. Chairs with French stamped leather seats.
There are other odd pieces of furniture of great taste and of the very best that has been imported into the country up to date.
At this artistic Auction—which must attract the attention of all by its absolute exceptionality—other pieces of furniture of great value will be offered for sale. Likewise paintings of undoubted merit by famous artists, and other "objets d'art" of unusual value.
TO SUM UP
This will be a NOTABLE AUCTION which persons of taste should not fail to avail of. Every article of furniture has come from the famous workshops of Krieger in Paris, imported here by the well-known firm of Griet Bros, 857 Calle Alsina. As it is a sheer impossibility to give a detailed description. I invite the public to visit my Mart, from to-day, Sunday 24th, and see for themselves.
This Grand Auction will be held in my Mart
566--PIEDAD--566
(Opposite Gath and Chaves's)

Punctual attendance is requested, as the sale will commence exactly at the hour named.
